

W HERE But farming is getting popular among the glove pushers. Tommy Ryan announced his retirement to a peach orchard a couple of years ago. Jeffries settled on a California ranch. Marvin Hart has a fine farm near Louisville, where he does all of his training. And now Bob Fitzsimmons has started in to out-swing them all.

Bob New into The Evening World office yesterday afternoon and announced his arrival by landing a right hook back of the sporting editor's ear. That's his stock joke.

"I'm living on the farm," said Bob in answer to queries. "Yep! The farm for me after this. It's great. I've got forty-five acres. You ought to see me and Mrs. Fitz ploughing—that is me ploughing and Mrs. Fitz bossing the job. We've painted everything in sight ourselves and we've got a garden that would knock your eye out."

We explained that we didn't want our eye knocked out. Thought that might be another of the stock jokes. But the suggestion glanced off Fitz without making a dent.

"I've got a lot of live stock," Fitz went on. "Got horses and cows and dogs and a lion. Gee! but you ought to see the lion. He weighs 200 pounds now. I picked up a trophy line ninety feet long, put a ring on the end of the lion's chain and fixed the ring so it would run on the trolley. The lion runs up and down all day long for exercise. It's getting too strong to wrestle with. When he got me down now he lies on me, and I can't move an inch until he gets ready to let me up. Come out some day and I'll let you wrestle with the lion."

We declined.

With thanks.

We aren't wrestling with any lions.

"Well," Bob went on, undiscouraged, "come out and see the lion punch the bag."

"How's that?"

"Punch the bag. He's a trick lion. One day I was punching the bag in training—three-minute rounds, with a minute's rest. I'd punch fast—tap, tap, tap—and end up with a big wallop. When I left the bag after the first round the lion ran up and began to hit it with his paws—tap, tap, tap—just like me. He tapped a few times and then he landed a big wallop—just like I did—and ran away."

"After the next round the lion did the same thing, punching light and finishing up with a wallop and then running back to let me have my turn. I took turns with him for eighteen rounds, and then I had to break the string before he'd let me stop."

"Why don't you match him against Jeffries?" suggested the office boy.

Fitz looked wise for a moment, then turned around and went out the door. I guess he went back to the farm.

But he needn't sent us any transportation. We aren't boxing with any lions, either.

SPORTING EDITOR'S ANSWERS TO QUERIES.

In a game of ball last Saturday a player knocked a three-base hit, and going to second base he went over the base-remainer, he did not cut it and the umpire called him out. Please print in your paper what an umpire of the big league would do in a case like that. I know what the rule book says, but I don't think that an umpire that knew his business would do such a thing.

JOHN EYRE.

The umpire was right. Any good umpire would have so decided.

How many home runs has Lumley of the Brooklyn team made so far?

A BROOKLYN FAN.

Four.

A bats that Lumley of Brooklyn made his last home run in the game with Philadelphia in Brooklyn on April 29.

B bats that he has made one since. Which is correct? J. J. MARTIN.

B wins.

Would you kindly advise me through your valuable Keeler how many home runs made more hits than Mike Donlin up to May 12?

D. NEWMAN.

No. No. 58 Seventh street.

A says the game on Saturday, May 26, between the Giants and St. Louis goes to Mathewson's credit. B says it goes to McGinnity's. Which is right?

A wins.

A bat B 2 to 1 that Philadelphia would win on the 21st alt. providing Waddell pitched. He pitched for nine innings and Bender pitched the rest. The game lasted thirteen innings. To whom was the last game credited?

W. C. HENNING.

No. 148 East Fourteenth street, city.

A loses.

Kindly let me know the seating capacity of the Polo Grounds and American League Park, Yours truly,

JAMES LEVINSON.

No. 34 East 12th street.

Said to be 15,000, 14,000.

Please let me know the highest paid player on the Albany team, to decide a bet. Please let me know McGraw's salary.

You will have to write to them personally. Those are private matters.

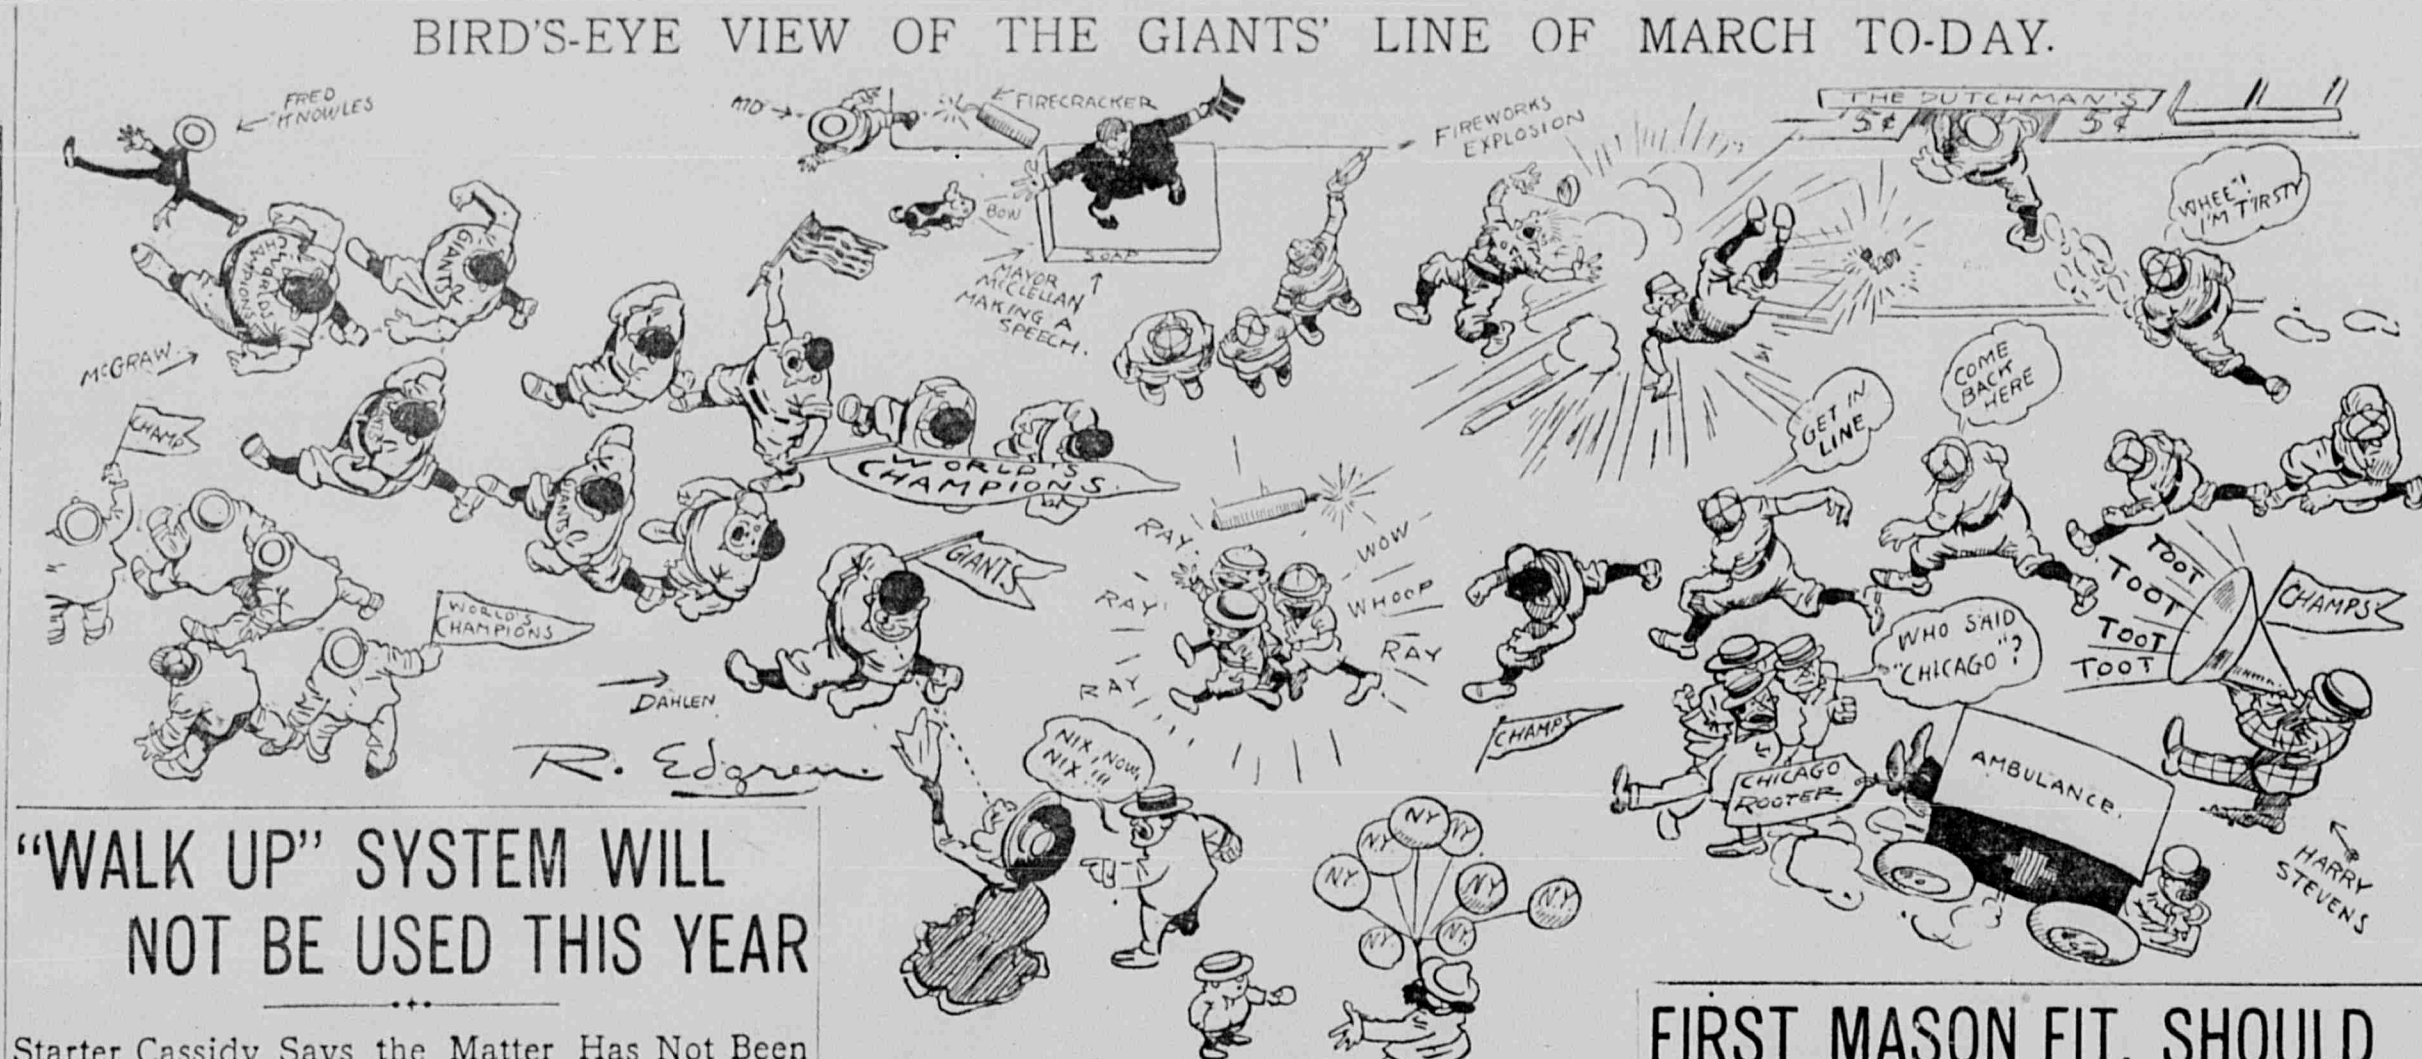

How long did John McGraw, of the Giants, play ball with the Brooklyn club? A bats B that he played with Brooklyn for three years. B says no. Who's right? Yours truly, W. KIRBY.

B wins.

A bats B that Stahl, of Washington, who plays third base, has done more for Washington this season than Willie Keeler, of the Yankees.

A CONSTANT ROOFER.

Stahl does not play third base. The rest of your question is not clear.

"WALK UP" SYSTEM WILL NOT BE USED THIS YEAR

Starter Cassidy Says the Matter Has Not Been Mentioned by Stewards—Is Far and Above Flat-Footed Break.

BY FRANK W. THORP.

Much has been said on the starting question of late, and it has been reported several times that the Jockey Club stewards had decided to permit Mass Cassidy to put into use his famous "walk-up" system, which so delighted turfmen at City Park last winter and at Essex Park in the winter of 1904.

I asked Mr. Cassidy yesterday to tell me just exactly how the matter stood. "I have not asked the stewards to let me change the present system of starting," he said, "and the stewards have not mentioned the matter to me. All that has been said on the matter has been said in the newspapers and there has been no foundation for it."

"As a matter of fact, I do not want to make any change. I am satisfied with things as they are, and I guess the stewards are, for they have not said anything to the contrary."

"But don't you believe that the 'walk-up' start is much better than the flat-footed break?" I asked Mr. Cassidy.

"Unquestionably it is, but this is not too time of year to make a change. You see if I changed to the 'walk-up' the public would expect wonderful things, because there has been so much talk about it. It would not be possible to do good work on the jump, because I would take time to get the boys accustomed to the change, and you know if I failed to make good at once there would be no end of a howl. If the stewards want the 'walk-up' system the proper time to begin is in the early spring, and then by the time we get back North the boys will have become accustomed to the new method and everything will run smoothly."

This statement of affairs ought to put an end to all gossip concerning the adoption of the "walk-up" system. The stewards are silent on the matter and Mr. Cassidy does not want to change at this time of year. Mr. Cassidy agreed with me that no man, no matter how competent he might be, would ever be able to make perfect starts with the flat-footed break.

"Look at that last race to-day," he exclaimed. "Four of the horses had never been to the barrier before and they simply wouldn't break. When the barrier was lifted they plunged against other horses, and the result was that I got the credit of a bad start. No one ever thinks of putting the blame on the horses. It is always the starter."

Close friends of Mr. Cassidy say as an actual fact that in all the hundred or more days starting he did at City Park last winter there were not more than half a dozen breaks that could be called bad. This is a strong recommendation for Mr. Cassidy. I personally saw Mr. Cassidy start with the "walk-up" system at Hot Springs during the meeting at Essex Park, and I never saw such fair and perfect starts as I did at the track. However, if the "walk-up" is to be adopted, by all means let it be done at the proper time, in the early spring.

FLAHERTY BOXES SULLIVAN A DRAW

(Special to The Evening World.)

GLOUCESTER, Mass., June 12.—John A. Sullivan, of Magnolia, and Martin Flaherty went twelve rounds to a draw last night at the Gloucester A. C. The agreement was that the bout should be declared a draw if both men were on their feet at the finish. This understanding was fortunate for Sullivan, for Flaherty was far from being, landing at will, but for some reason failing to score a knockout.

Flaherty was very fat, while Sullivan was in prime condition. The bout was rather hard on spots, and it looked as if Flaherty did not try very hard to put Sullivan out.

ALEXANDER WINS MET. GOLF TITLE

Earning his right to hold his championship title, Frederick B. Alexander yesterday defeated Harold H. Hackett, the challenger for the metropolitan lawn tennis singles honors and cup.

The two men played a very hard and wonderful aggressive and defensive game. Then he faded from the contest. He made a splendid stand, but as the match progressed Alexander increased his pace and his playing of the strokes. He was easily the leader of the two at the end, and won by the score of 4-6, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2 and 6-1.

Fast Colored Teams to Play.

Olympic Field, One Hundred and Thirty-sixth street and Fifth avenue, will be the scene to-morrow of the first clash of the season between those crack colored teams, the Philadelphia Quaker Giants and the New York Quaker Giants.

The great Monroe will play short for the Quakers and Hackett and Johnson will be in the points. Hargens and De Vos will form the battery for the New Yorkers. The game will start at 4:30 o'clock.

Quinn Beats Copper.

CRIMSON OARSMEN REACH NEW LONDON

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 12.—Nine rowing "Rafts" and a vigorous "Harvard" for a tiger was given the Harvard varsity oarsmen by the freshmen when they landed from the launch John Harvard at New London.

The freshmen had arrived in New London on the same train that brought the varsity crews from Cambridge, but were transferred to another train in waiting and arrived before the varsity crew. Jim Wray had the two eights and four divers themselves of their "store clothes" and in less than ten minutes after the launch's arrival the shells were racing down the river toward the naval station.
